

Yamacraw Publications Presents

DISNEY

Secrets!

Secrets!

Secrets!

111 IN DISNEY'S 111

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

Letter from the Editor

Hello,

If you are reading this, then 1.) the yearbook has been completed, published, and distributed or 2.) someone has managed to steal this letter unbeknownst to me. In the case of the former rather than the latter, the publication of this book represents all of my hopes and dreams coming to fruition. Wait. It would be incredibly selfish of me to take all of the credit for this. First of all, I would like to take the time to show my unbounded appreciation for my staff for, without their creative energy and countless work hours, this book would continue to be the punchline to a joke that was never really that funny. Victoria Payne, Bissell McWilliams, Lorna Burrows, and Amir Ghalehgol deserve as much gratitude as I for their dedication to this great endeavor. I, of course, cannot forget to thank our advisor, Natalie Dietz, who served as Yamacraw errand girl, and Dean Doyle for being committed to making this a reality.

This is not just a book with pictures in it. This is a reflection of who we are and the place we have chosen to be the destination for intellectual, social, and spiritual (yes spiritual) growth. Without this serving as a record of where we were and a guide to where we are going, we are bound to make unnecessary and possibly damaging errors. This is a testament to faith. The belief that you can achieve the seemingly impossible as long as you maintain your focus.

Initially, when I agreed to take on the job of Yamacraw Editor-in-Chief and "Revivalist", I thought it would be a fitting and final gift to my peers and the University who both have went far too long without a yearbook. I felt it would be the one thing I would be remembered for. I realize now that the latter was not as admirable. Memories, legacies are created everyday. No 'book' will secure your place in the hearts and minds of those who encounter you on your journey through life.

If you take anything from my 'self-righteous' and 'indulgent' rambling, please take this: Never give up. Don't ignore that little voice inside you that keeps urging you towards what's right, what's true. Believe in yourself. Don't be afraid to go against the tide because, at the end of the day, all you have, on this mortal coil, is yourself. There are so many things that I want to, need to say to so many of you touched my life over the past 4 years. I pray you know deep inside what they are. So, without any further pomp and circumstance, ladies and gentlemen, I am proud to present to you the Yamacraw.

Campus life has been good to senior Scott Anderson!

Resident heckler, Chuck Wingo, wants you to know all about him!
pg. 92

Campus Life

Oglethorpe Exposed! pg. 4

Learn about the 'real' history of Oglethorpe! Skeletons for Oglethorpe's past are revealed in great detail!

The Times Are A-changin' pg. 10

Read about all of the exciting and controversial changes that took place at OU this year!

Bon Appetit! pg. 12

After years of suffering from a bad case of Aramark, OU introduces a new (and delicious) food service.

Fashion on Campus pg. 14

The Yamacraw's Miss Payne scopes out the hot fashion scene at OU (and we do have one!!).

Events pg. 16

Read about all of the exciting events that happened at OU this year from Mud Wrestling to Homecoming. If it was hot, it's here, baby, and in living color!

Clubs and Organizations

pg. 33

Get detailed info about all of the active clubs and orgs on campus including pics of their members and highlights of their year!

Read about Brian Norman's sand explosion pg. 78

Iman gives new meaning to the term "sh@tfaced"! pg.98

Greek Life pg. 70

There's more to fraternities and sororities than partying and socializing...well, maybe not that much more. If you aren't familiar with them, well now's your chance to see what they're all about through detailed descriptions and tons of pics!

Sports pg. 78

Yep. We can't forget these guys and gals who aren't afraid to push their bodies and minds to the limit in order to win it for the team!

Faculty pg. 92

Think you know everything about our esteemed faculty and staff? Well, take another look and you will be pleasantly surprised!

Classes pg. 98

Seniors pg. 98

Check out these tastemakers who have helped shape QU into the force that it is today! See all of their exploits and hijinks in brilliant color!

Juniors pg. 114

They're not seniors, but...

Sophomores pg. 120

Hey, would you want to be one?!

Freshmen pg. 128

Awwww!! So young, so innocent, and so hot!! Check out this year's hottest new arrivals!

Located in the heart of the posh Brookhaven community is Oglethorpe University. It stands with its neo-gothic architecture, lording over the neighborhood, constantly serving as a reminder of the importance of education and the arts. Little is known about this intellectual fortress...until now. Hidden beneath the walls of this fair campus lies stories of times past and a legacy richer than any large dollar amount.

The legacy of Oglethorpe University stems back to the 18th century at its previous location in Midway, Georgia. The raison d'être of old Oglethorpe is found in the determination of Georgia Presbyterians to establish in the state an institution for the training of ministers. Chartered on December 21, 1835, the University commenced actual operations on January 1, 1838, at Midway, a small village near Milledgeville. At the time there were about 125 students and 6 faculty members.

The school's curriculum consisted principally of courses dealing with Greek, Latin, classical literature, theology, and a surprising variety of the natural sciences. Admission requirements were geared to the curricular structure; thus, one seeking to enter Oglethorpe as a freshman was required to exhibit before a faculty committee a reasonable command of Caesar's Commentaries, Cicero's Orations, the works of Virgil, the Gospels of the Greek Testament, Latin and Greek grammar, arithmetic, and geography.

Among the most distinguished of the faculty during this early era were such men as Nathaniel Crawford, professor of mathematics and astronomy and son of the famous William Crawford, and Joseph LeConte, destined to world fame for his work in the field of science; and James Woodrow, an uncle of Woodrow Wilson and the first teacher in Georgia to hold the Ph.D. Her best known alumnus was the poet Sidney Lanier. Prior to 1860, the Bachelor of Arts was the only earned degree conferred by the institution; but there early developed the practice of awarding a second degree, the Master of Arts to any alumnus of three years' standing who was "of good moral character and who could show that he was engaged in some industrial or professional pursuit.

By the close of the 1850s, thanks largely to the able leadership of President Talmage, the institution had reached a new plateau of financial solidarity and academic soundness; but both were soon shattered by the outbreak of the Civil War. Although student enrollment at the beginning of the term in October of 1860 was as large as that of the preceding year, by the following fall, it had fallen sharply as students (as well as some faculty) departed to serve in the Confederate forces.

The collapse of the Confederacy delivered a heavy blow to the school, since her endowment by 1865 had come to consist largely of Confederate notes and bonds.

At that time, the trustees concluded that further efforts towards restoring the vigor of the school, in its present location, were hopeless; they resolved, therefore, to transfer the University to Atlanta, partly because that city had recently replaced Milledgeville as the state capital, partly because economic conditions there appeared to be more favorable. At the same time, the determined to convert the institution into a real university through the addition of new schools and departments.

With a faculty of five professors in the college, six instructors in the law department, and three teachers in the University high school, the new Oglethorpe opened its doors on October 4, 1870, under the presidency of Dr. David Wills, a prominent Presbyterian minister. Its location was the site now occupied by the Atlanta City Hall. But the move failed to bring the anticipated success. Largely because of the severe economic dislocations following in the wake of the war, Oglethorpe found herself faced with the bankruptcy by the fall of 1872. Thereupon, the Synod of Georgia directed that operations be permanently discontinued. With that event, seemingly, the institution had reached the end of its existence.

The ensuing chapter in her history is synonymous with the name of Thornwell Jacobs, who had first come to Atlanta in 1909 to serve as executive secretary in a campaign to raise $150,000 for Agnes Scott College. By 1912, his thinking had crystallized into a determination to reestablish Oglethorpe. His first appeal for support was to the Presbyterian Minister's Association of Atlanta; his next step was to visit 101 Presbyterian churches in the east, from each of which he secured a contribution of one thousand dollars or more toward the restoration of the school as a Presbyterian institution. Appropriately enough, the first Presbyterian congregation visited had been that at Milledgeville. In all, more than half a million dollars were given or subscribed toward the goal, about half of the sum coming from individuals and groups in the city of Atlanta itself. In such a manner did Oglethorpe re-arise. Chartered on May 8, 1913, the University had its physical regeneration with the laying of the cornerstone of the first building (the present Phoebe Hearst) on January 21, 1915, in the presence of some of the alumni of 1860 and 1861. On the same day, the board of directors formally named Jacobs to the presidency.

In the following year, the leaders of the new enterprise offered it, "Lock, stock, and barrel", in the words of Dr. Jacobs, to the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church, but for reasons not entirely clear, the offer was rejected. The new school, therefore, never maintained any formal relationship with the Presbyterian Church.

Jacobs envisioned Oglethorpe as a "living memorial" to James Oglethorpe and many of the landmarks and symbols of Oglethorpe University resulted from this drive to honor the founder of Georgia. The Gothic revival architecture was inspired by James Oglethorpe's honorary alma mater, Corpus Christi College, Oxford. The university's coat-of-arms, which included three boar's heads and the inscription Nescit Cedere ("He does not know how to give up), was based on the Oglethorpe family seal.

Throughout the 1920s, the institution received extensive contributions from several individuals. Most prominent of them were:

J.T. Lupton of Chattanooga, whose gifts ultimately totaled about a million and a quarter dollars (Lupton Hall, built with his gifts, was opened in 1927); Mrs. Robert J. Lowry, whose contributions were about $200,000 (Lowry Hall, built with money she contributed, was constructed in 1927); Harry P. Hermance, who contributed $5,000 a year between 1919 and 1929 toward the construction of Hermance Stadium; and William R. Hearst, who gave in all about a quarter of a million dollars (including the money for the purchase of the present Lake Phoebe and its surrounding area).

By 1929, the situation, as summarized by Dr. Jacobs, was this: the University had one building valued at $425,000, another at $375,000, still another at $200,000, a stadium worth $100,000, and a campus of 600 acres worth $600,000, giving a total asset value of $1,850,000. Against this stood obligations amounting to $450,000, leaving net assets of $1,400,000.

At about the same time, the student enrollment stood at approximately three hundred, the size of the faculty and staff at forty.

By 1933, however, the general stability had been shattered by the impact of the Great Depression. Enrollment fell, income dropped, and debts rose sharply. Total indebtedness rose to well over half a million dollars and on one crucial occasion only the time intervention of Bernard Baruch saved the institution from foreclosure of a mortgage of about $240,000. The returning prosperity of the mid-1930s brought with it a gradual restoration of stability in the affairs of Oglethorpe. The unflagging zeal of Dr. Jacobs and the untiring labor of Judge Edgar Watkins, who for many years was the president of the board of trustees and chairman of its executive committee, were of vital importance in the restoration.

Whatever the final judgment of Dr. Jacobs' presidency, few will deny that in the area of public relations he had the touch of genius. During his tenure, he launched several projects that brought national and even international repute to the school. One of these was his abortive effort to bring from England and Georgia the remains of James Oglethorpe. Another endeavor that attracted widespread attention was the establishment in 1931 of a campus radio station, WJTL, as an educational facility for the offering of credit-carrying courses, a program that lasted for 3 years. Perhaps the best known of all was the effort to preserve for posterity a cross-view of twentieth century life through the construction of a Crypt of Civilization; by the time the door of the Crypt was closed in 1940, the story had become known throughout the width and breadth of the land.

Philip Weltner, known for his work as an attorney and educator, began a new era at Oglethorpe

University in 1944. He and a group of faculty developed a new approach to undergraduate education called the "Oglethorpe Idea." This was one of the first efforts at creating a core curriculum and its aim was to "make a life and to make a living." The core included courses in "Citizenship" and "Human Understanding" as a part of a common learning experience for Oglethorpe students.

The growth of Oglethorpe University continued in the 1960s with a facilities expansion program. In the 1980s Oglethorpe was classified in the category Liberal Arts I by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Oglethorpe is now a member of the Annapolis Group, a collection of the 100 most selective liberal arts colleges. Oglethorpe continues to be a leader in the development and implementation of the core curriculum, which is funded in part by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The Times Are

The 2003-2004 school year at Oglethorpe University has been witness to many changes, some we never thought possible. Aramark is out. Bon Appetit is in. Former Dean of Student Life Artie Travis was replaced by Professor Tim Doyle. The Emerson Student Center received a much-needed makeover (amazing what a couple of coats of paint can do). And Traer residents no longer have to slip and slide on the muddy hill leading along the campus road from the student center to the Traer parking lot thanks to the newly installed sidewalk. These changes would not have been possible without the tireless dedication of Dean Doyle, the staff of the Physical Plant, and other important university personnel.

Our new Dean of Students

A-Changin'

Here is the new and improved Talmage Room located in the Emerson Student Center. Gone is the dreary cinderblock and dark wood moldings with matching ceiling. The renovated room has a fresh, classic, yet modern feel to it. The look is formal enough for important, university meetings yet informal enough for student events.

Gone

Estelle Archibold replaced Marshall Nason as Student Activities Director (for a short time, at least). Now, OUI Sam Ayana Bryan has the position. Whew!

This is the new and improved TV lounge located in the Emerson Student Center. The 1980s ski lodge look and feel is over. Light and warm colors rule this popular spot along with comfy chairs and couches as well as a new plasma screen television.

Bon

The dark age of Aramark food service came to an end this year with the introduction of Bon Appetit, a company that promises “nothing frozen, nothing canned.” From more ethnic-inspired dishes to a noticeable increase in vegetarian and vegan dishes, Bon Appetit provided a much needed change to the Oglethorpe dining scene. The cafe in Goodman Hall has also seen some changes with new products such as Pura Vida fair trade coffee and various health drinks. But alas, at the time of publication, the ice cream machine was still M.I.A.

One of the fancier Bon Appetit dessert spreads.

Appetit!

The new food service makes staff members Ms. Carol and Buky very happy.

Bubber takes a moment to model some Quaker Oats. (No more Generic Brand oatmeal for us!!)

Ms. Carolyn makes being glamorous while working seem easy.

Ms. Chris and Ms. Ann prepare a lovely meal.

FASHION on Campus

by Miss Payne

Andi stays on top of the latest fashions by sporting the pointy heel with cargo pants and layers with the jacket. Black and pink are the colors of the fall season.

Black is Back! Did it ever really go away? Anyway, Tiana wears this beautiful velvet top with long dangling earrings.

Kim sets her down tone by wearing layers, pointy heels, low rise jeans, and the natural colors.

For guys' fashion, denim is a must, and fitted is becoming even more popular than in past years. Again, layering is a must!

Rachel McKnight with her own natural beauty sports a highly fashionable top that hangs off the shoulders... Work it Girl.

I simply sport a classic black top with sheer sleeves and a denim skirt.

For a night on the town, one can never go wrong with a classic black shirt or dress with subtle complements.

Hats are in ... and for ladies, so are braids. This retro top makes a beautiful combination to the modern hat and hairstyle.

Bernard has the right idea with his fashionable hat.

Jenna makes a very bold move with the poka-dot shirt... and it looks Great on her!

Ultimately, everyone has their own fashion, and those that express themselves through their clothing are the ones that we will remember.

Who. What. When. Where. Why.

EVENTS

Check it out...

CASINO NIGHT

Casino Night is an annual event put on by the Programming Board that is designed to motivate students to get out of their dorm rooms on weekends while promoting community on campus. Potential gamblers can expect to find roulette, blackjack, slot machines, and even electronic horse racing. Prizes such as DVD players, karaoke machines, furniture, and movies were given out in abundance this year. Casino Night leads Oglethorpe students to a long life of addiction!

Erin thinks about her next bet.

Freshmen dealers are just as good as the rest..

Dar'shun deals a good hand for her table.

OU students bow on the next hand.

Miss Payne shakes the dice as Burret awaits a winning hand.. or not

High rollers at Oglethorpe

Victory for women's title holder Sofia "Mamacita" Casusky.

MUD

One of the most talked about and well-attended events of the Fall Semester was the Mudwrestling free-for-all sponsored by ECOS. The event, held October 14th, was emceed by Sean Freeman and the DJ was Katie Anderson. Students were invited to "become one with the mud" and "get primitive" in a mud wrestling tournament in the Traer courtyard. "Girls Gone Dirty", "Boys Gone Wild", and "Petey Says Relax" t-shirts were made for all participating wrestlers. Canned food donations were taken at the door for Mud Wrestling to benefit the Atlanta Food Bank. After several grueling matches, Sofia Casusky was named winner of the women's division and awarded the prestigious championship belt.

Kyle "the Giant" Anderson beat out competitors Danny McGuinn and Sean Raleigh to win the men's title.

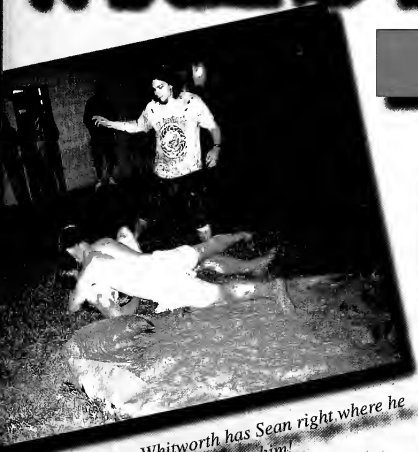

Mary and Lauren seem to be really enjoying themselves!

This is not what it looks like!

WRESTLING

Aaron Whitworth has Sean right where he wants him!

"I told you I don't like you like that!"

Exy Freshman, Emily Gameri, slips comfortably in the role of "Number Girl"

Sean and Iman get a little cozy. At least buy him dinner first!

Not so

Virgin Bourbon

Virgin Bourbon is an event put on annually by the Programming Board that is designed to promote alcohol-free fun. However, it seems that, at this event, miraculously, some people end up drunk anyway. This will forever remain one of life's great mysteries.

These party-ers are ready for clean, safe, and alcohol-free fun!

Stephanje and Surayyah represent for the Seniors

Liliya loves the look!

Nothing's wrong with a girl/girl fun!

Liliya's got that look in her eye!

European Night

Hey! Hey! We're the International Kids and we're comin' to your town!

European Night was another in a series of events planned by the International Club in order to educate the Oglethorpe student body about European culture through exposure to music, food, and cultural traditions.

Party-goers were treated to the hypnotic sounds of Greek supergroup Antique as well as exotic food from various parts of Europe. Of course, those in attendance were definitely dressed to impress. This goes to show you that style and substance knows no region.

Amir and Tamara all smiles

The game's all here!

OSA Bowling Trip

In an attempt to increase morale among the members of Oglethorpe student government, OSA planned a trip to the old lanes. Did it work? Hey, weren't you at school this year?

The Bowlers

Miss Payne

co

The Victors

Amir going in for the strike.

Battle of the Quad

The Students vs. The Faculty

The "battle" is a tug-of-war between a student team and a faculty/staff team organized by the Programming Board that takes place in the fall on the Academic Quad. The name refers to the 1742 battle in which the forces of General Oglethorpe defeated the Spanish troops in South Georgia.

and The Faculty Won!

Like Omigod! Kelly like totally looks like Briney! She and Anne are like so probably against the music!

Guess what goddess Crystal is. (Hint: check out the look in her eye)

Halloween: Chi Phi Style

Sean and Crystal know Jessica has got looks that Chi Phi's annual Halloween Party has been known to bring out all of the freaks and such in record numbers. This year was no exception. Everyone who was anyone was in attendance for this event. As to be expected, there was an abundance of Britney Spears-esque school girl uniforms most notably being worn by style mavens such as Kelly Cogan. Glam rock was apparently alive and well based on the cameo appearance of Scu's and Rachel McKnight's glam rock revival band. Also, black pimps were all the rage this year. Complimenting these 'take no mess' brothas, scantily-clad members of the baseball team came dressed as their bitches. Costumes, drunkenness, semi-nudity, and Paganism. What more could anyone want from a party!

These sexy Sigmas work it for the camera.

Drunk college co-eds. What more can I say?

Seu, Morgan, and Rachel (far right) glam it up on the way to the party.

hat ill.

A hot new organization that made a big splash this year was the Oglethorpe Theater Association. Their first (and best) production was the cult fave "The Horror Show". The show was directed by [unclear] and featured Ali Colvard and [unclear] in Rhodes and matinee idol John Wilson.

Rocky (John Wilson) tries not to succumb to the advances of Janet.

"No! This way, girls"

Ali takes a break from directing to appreciate Brandon's assets.

Ben Mink, Charne Visser honor Michael Jackson at his performance at FZ&C.

Oh my! What a lovely family portrait! (l. to r.) Tim Hand, Daniel Pages, John Wilson, Stewart Spetsers, Ben Mink, Brandon Rhodes, Ali Colvart, Amanda Nichols, Amy Lowe, Dallas Green, Mason Martin, Jevacas Green, (bottom row) Anna West, Hammer, and Lips Down on Dixie.

Dead Day's

Dead Day (n.) Formally known as “Reading/Preparation Day”, this is the day before final exams begin each semester. It is a day set aside for study and rest before the rigors of finals. No classes meet on this day and no meetings of student organizations are held.

Isn't that just great! As a means of “preparation” and “rest” prior to Dead Day, the University plans a blowout party at a local hot spot (This year, The Library) where alcohol, food, music, and fun are in abundance. Can you possibly think of a better way to spend the night before finals crunch time?!

*This is where the party is.
AT!!!*

These freshmen partygoers take time out to smile for the

...en have the “balls to get against T-m in pool?

The freshmen show that they can get down too.

Eve Party

"wear it's this big!"

Chi-Omega represents with class and beauty.

Shake a tail feather...

...and dances her heart out with the mysterious woman in red (Rachel McKnight).

Freshmen mingle at the Dead Day's Eve Party.

Oglethorpe University

La Dolce Vita

Homecoming is a tradition at Oglethorpe University. It is our only formal dance, at which we present the Homecoming Lord and Lady. Though for some to be Lord or Lady Oglethorpe is a tremendous honor, for others it is nothing more than a glamorous popularity contest, like the Prom King and Queen. Nonetheless, this year's Lord and Lady were Paisal Johnson and Sophia Casusky and aren't they beautiful! This year, the Homecoming formal took place at the lovely Villa Christina with an Italian theme "La Dolce Vita," which translated means "The Sweet Life."

Life is sweet!

These senior ladies are definitely enjoying the "Prom" party!

Amiliya take advantage of the romantic ambiance

Homecoming 2004

Our lovely Lady Oglethorpe

He looks sober to me!

These sexy ladies are definitely ready to party!

It's Nadia and the ass she rode in on!

Leah laughing it up

Aren't Charity and Mike adorable?!

Love is definitely in the air for the Smiths.

CHINUA HAWK IN CONCERT

Chinua Hawk taking a break during his powerful set to converse with the audience

Kijome and Victoria "get down" with Chinua, his sister, and his guitar player.

CLUBS

and

ORGANIZATIONS

C o n n e c t i o n s

A c c o u n t a b i l i t y

P r o f f e s s i o n
a l i s m

P u b l i c R e l a t i o n s

S e r v i c e

O G L E T H O R P E S T U

Christina

Dar'shun

Danny

Kionne

Student

bringing students

Oglethorpe Student Association's Mission, should they choose to accept it, is to act as advocates for student concerns, advance relationships between students and administrators, alumni, and the world beyond, and presenting quality programming that is both educational and entertaining... In reality, OSA is so much more than that. Three bodies--Executive Council, Senate, and Programming Board--joined to enhance student life on campus by having class unity projects, sponsoring events such as Homecoming, Chinua Hawk concert, Virgin Bourbon, Battle of Bloody Marsh, Fun Flicks, Casino Night, Dead Day's Eve Party, and the Senior Party. Under the leadership of Dar'shun Kendrick, the OSA President, the organization took a different direction to become more active and visible on campus.

Executive Council:

- OSA President - Dar'shun Kendrick
- Vice President of Senate - Jillian Martin
- Vice President of Programming Board - Stephanie Bonner-Wiggins
- Secretary - Cindy Amoh
- Treasurer - Jill Sharritt
- Parliamentarian - Tiffany Amber Hatfield
- Senior Class President - Victoria Payne
- Junior Class President - Cat Lawler
- Sophomore Class President - Eugene Rives II
- Freshmen Class President - Alex Johnson

OSA members Brandi, Dar'shun, Estell, the advisor, Kionne, and Eugene at the OSA Open House.

Battle of Bloody Marsh

The Faculty

DENT ASSOCIATION

Beth and Sahara

Government...

Robbie

and faculty together.

Rachel

The Senate:

Senior Delegates: Jaymini Nayee, Jenna Lea, Rachel McKnight, and Jenny Triplett, Junior Delegates: Kionne August, Season Broughton, Beth Bosserman, and Danny McGuin

Sophomore Delegates: Miranda Atnip, Adonis Bovell, Stephanie JoJanssen, and Laura McGee

Freshmen Delegates: Dylan Evans, Nadia Mawani, Amanda Nichols, and Jeffrey Sullivan

The Programming Board:

Senior Representatives: Rachel McKnight, Rachel Lehr, Christina Vinluan, and Erin Weller

Junior Representatives: Kionne August, Danielle Carlson, Sahara McGraw, and Leslie Prall

Sophomore Representatives: Marsha'l Guilliam, Robert Reynolds, Eugene Rivers II, and Brandi Wilson

Freshmen Representatives: Anne Balter, Dallas Greene, Crystal Harris, and Alex Johnson

The Students

OSA Bowling Party

STUDENT

Oglethorpe's Student Ambassadors are student volunteers, selected by the Admissions Staff, to assist in the admission process. They write letters and provide tours for prospective students as well as assisting with Open Houses, JEO, and College Fairs.

The 2003-2004 Students Ambassadors

Leading the Ambassadors in '03-'04 were President Jennifer Marshall, and Vice-Presidents Alan Zwicker, Wakeela Simpson, Kelli Weatherall, and Bisell McWilliams.

...to be an integral part of

James McClary, Claire Fontaine

Prospective with Emily Gantert and Amy Lowe

...making a positive impact on the Oglethorpe

AMBASSADORS

Fall Open House

Emily Gantert

Deirdre Hubbard and Dr. Large

the admission process...

Ambassadors on Tour

Carl Lubbe, Emily Treuman, Chris Matthews, Jennifer Marshall prospective students and on campus.

Marsha'l Gilliam and Kelli Weatherall

OGLETHORPE CHRIST

Seeking Christ through...

OCF exists in order to reach students for Christ, to equip them to love and serve as Christ loved us. The group meets weekly for corporate worship, in addition to smaller, student led Bible studies and prayer sessions. In the Fall, instead of a traditional retreat, OCF staged an "Advance," holding several fellowship building events in the area. We welcome anyone from any walk of life.

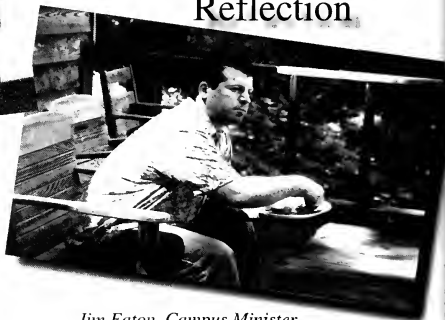

OCF Members on the 2003 Summer Retreat

Music

R.G. Lamar and Will Galloway

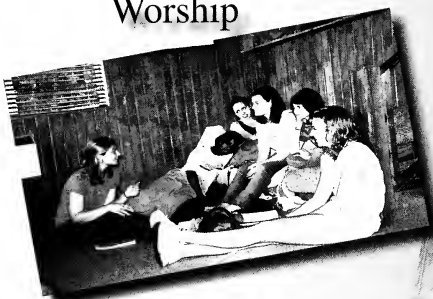

Reflection

Jim Eaton, Campus Minister

IAN FELLOWSHIP

Worship

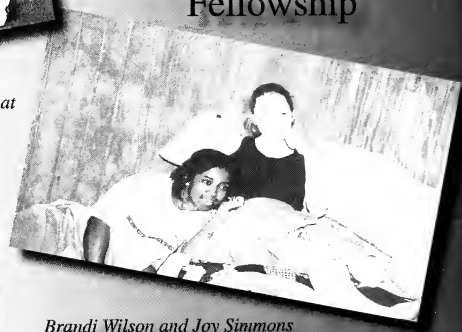

The Girls at the 2003 Summer Retreat

Leah Sanders

Fellowship

Brandi Wilson and Joy Simmons

Kyle, Dallas, and Ambanda

Will Galloway and Danny McGuinn

JEWISH STU

The Jewish Student Union is organized and run by Jewish students at Oglethorpe. One goal of this organization is to create an environment for Jewish students seeking interaction with others who share their religious beliefs and holidays. Another goal is to provide an open and welcoming atmosphere for students of all faiths who are interested in learning more about the Jewish religion and culture. The JSU invites all students to participate in two sponsored events throughout the school year. During the fall semester there is the building of the sukkah during the Jewish holiday, Sukkot. In the spring semester the JSU celebrates Passover by observing the traditional dinner. Both of these events are held to celebrate and educate the Oglethorpe community about the Jewish holidays and beliefs.

JSU members Kim Feld and Emily Treuman in front of the completed sukkah.

A hut, or sukkah, was built on the deck by the Emerson student center as part of Sukkot festivities. The sukkah was decorated with traditional signs of the harvest, including gourds

STUDENT UNION

Donna Zamir and Kim Feld reach to hang the decorative centerpiece in the sukkah.

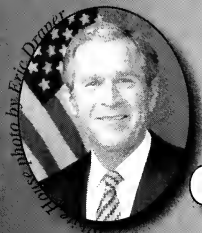

The completed sukkah

(l. to r. counterclockwise) Lorna Burrows, Kim Feld, Kashif Ahmeed, Donna Zamir, Alan Zwicker and Emily Treuman

COLLEGE REPUBLICANS

Born in the USA...

Jennifer Marshall,
Secretary

College Republicans

Favorite Bumper Stickers:

“Gun Control is Hitting Your Target”

“Republican Women are great leaders... You’re following one now.”

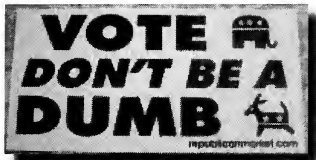

“Proud Member of the Vast Right Wing Conspiracy”

Both the College Republicans despite their differing political bring to Oglethorpe a sense awareness. They have been promoting voter registration.

College Democrats prez, Darshun Kendrick, laughing at the possibility of a 2nd Bush term.

AND DEMOCRATS

Courtesy www.republicanmarket.com and the College Democrats, views, strive uniformly to of civic duty and political known to work together in

Favorite Bumper Stickers:

“Democrats are SEXY...Who ever heard of a great piece of elephant?”

“Be A Smart Ass... Vote Democrat”

“Last time someone listened to a bush folks wandered in the desert for 40 years...”

Alan Zwicker, College Democrat

College Democrats

E NVIRONMENTAL

O GLETHORP

ECOS is the activist organization on campus for the tree-huggers. From promoting awareness about environmental issues to supervising the student-run recycling program, ECOS has been an essential part of the Oglethorpe community for many years.

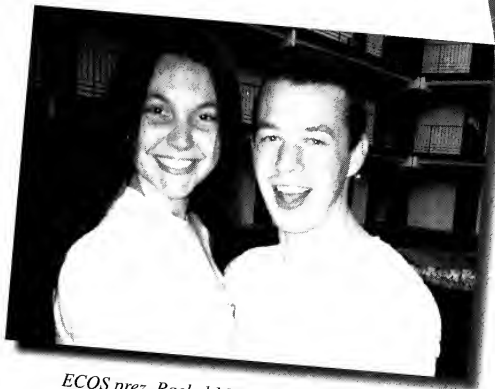

ECOS holds an annual Earth-Day celebration on April 22nd which includes environmental speakers, campus clean-ups, camping trips and bon fires. Also, there have been trash demonstrations to remind people to be mindful of their material consumption and increase recycling awareness. For three years in a row we have sponsored a “no-driving day” adequately themed “Mend Your Fuelish Ways” where members of the Oglethorpe community signed a pledge stating that on that day they pledge to give up their driving privileges. The no driving day also included gorilla activism and sidewalk chalk telling student to “Get off your ass and walk to class.”

ECOS asks everyone to hug a tree, kiss a fish and try to do their part to help save our environment. Every little bit helps.

Recycling is fun with Ryan Hanlin and Rachel!

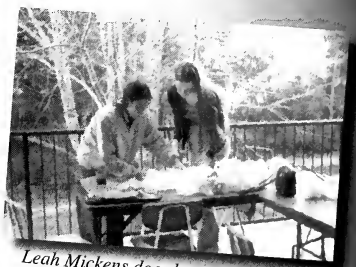

LY CONCERNED E STUDENTS

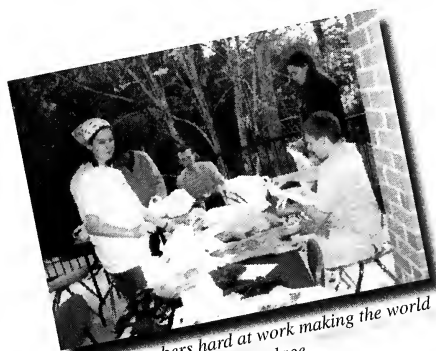

ECOS prez, Rachel McKnight, and Aaron Bean mug for the camera before the mud begins to fly.

An ECOS meeting in the dining hall.

Leah Mickens does her part to help the environment.

ECOS members hard at work making the world a better place.

Welcome to Rachel's Sweatshop where Emily Gantert toils to handmake hemp bracelets for the ECOS fundraiser.

Here's to...

ALPHA PHI

Alpha Phi Omega is a national co-ed service fraternity dedicated to the cardinal principles of leadership, friendship and service.

The Mu Mu chapter rarely commits to any one project. Rather, they like to spread themselves (hmmm....) over many different projects that encompass the four areas of service: service to the college, service to the fraternity, service to community, and service to the nation as participating citizens. Examples of service projects done by APO include volunteering at the Delaney House (a home for children of broken homes), nursing homes, state parks and other places in need.

APO Fall Prez, Linda Dreillinger looking so damn sexy

The Men of APO (l. to r. James Scott, Rich, and Geoff) are ready to provide full service

Mary Prince is on the edge of her seat watching "The O.C."

OMEGA

Loyal Brothers We

Lortin velit ip ex eliquat loreet adit acipsusci blaore tatio eugiamc nsequipit lut ipit wis erositio odoloreet wismolo tismod tio esequip ex eraessisi exeraessim nostie dionse volum iustrud do odolortiu ero odipissenis duis

Cat Lawler takes a moment away from "serving" to bond with her mother

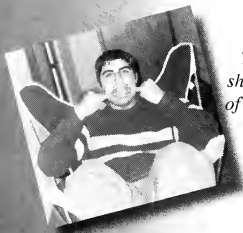

Charlie and Geoff break out the toys for some good ol' fashioned fun.

APO advisor and fellow alum, Dr. Nardo, poses with APO alum Heather Stan and senior APO-er Michelle Spann

The Vice-President shows what he's made of during Movie Night.

Circle K International is the premier service and leadership development organization for college students. It was founded at Oglethorpe in 1954. It dedicates service to on campus events and also to organizations in and around Atlanta, such as the Boys & Girls Club, the Atlanta Community Food Bank, and the Ronald McDonald House. OU's Circle K also works together with Circle K organizations of other campuses such as Emory and Georgia Tech.

Brandi gives a big smile as she packages canned goods for the needy.

There were 15 new members inducted into Circle K this year.

Iman, Liliya, Jewelia, and Jodi watch as they see what a little flour, oil, and food coloring can do to put a smile on the kids faces.

CLE K

Lisa plays a game with some kids at Trick or Treat in Traer.

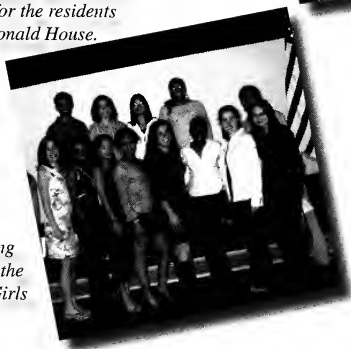

From left to right, beginning with the top row: Connie Yip (President), Amanda DeGrave (Treasurer), Lisa Ellis, Mayur Nayee, Emily Dejarne, Sarah Lykens, Thuy Nguyen, Shavonda Perryman (Communications Chair). Middle row: Piercen Oliver, Holen Brady, Jewelia Dakin, Bethelhem Abera, Phu-Tho Le, Fana Abay. Sophia Casusky, Jodi-Ann Moses, Jill Sharritt, Nataliya Kovalenko, Veer Chahwala. Bottom Row: Amir Ghalelghol, Liliya Kovalenko (Secretary), Iman Ahnadian (Vice-President). Not pictured: Lindsey Ciener, Brandi Wilson.

Shavonda, Amanda, Connie, and Sophia pose after helping the Kiwanis Club prepare dinner for the residents of the Ronald McDonald House.

OU and Georgia Tech Circle K members go out to Cafe Tu Tu Tango for dinner.

Iman and Mayur hang out with some kids at the Brookhaven Boys & Girls Club

Shavonda helps serve drinks to the kids at Trick or Treat in Traer with APO.

OUTLET

Oglethorpe University's LGBTQ organization! We provide many services for Oglethorpe students:

- we are a social and emotional support for gay men, lesbians, bisexuals and those questioning their identities on our campus
- an educational outreach and community service organization--we promote education and equality for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgendered people
- and most of all, an active and positive image and voice for gays and lesbians on campus. As the old saying goes: "We're here, we're queer, and we won't disappear!"

Rachel McKnight and Mary Feld take turns posing and taking photos

Oglethorpe Carribbean Student Association

The Oglethorpe Carribbean Student Association is a relatively new organization on Oglethorpe's campus. The group is primarily composed of students from the (duh) Carribbean as well as others from various walks of life. Through activities such as Carribbean Trivia Night, this organization has managed to increase awareness about their rich individual and collective heritage.

CSA President Greta Thompson greets us with her Carribbean flavor.

James Hill, Greta, and Adonis Bovell show some Carribbean love.

Danielle, Andi, Malisha, Jodi, Greta, and Liselle work it Carribbean style.

Say It Loud!!

BLACK STUDENT CAUCUS

Black Student Caucus, aka BSC, has been on Oglethorpe's campus for a while now, continuing each year to provide awareness to the campus as well as unity and opportunity to its members. This year, on the slate of things to do was Gospel Night, the Annual Choir Day for the BSC, Soul Food Night, and the Talent Show.

February has been the month when the BSC has really shown Oglethorpe its true colors, but the organization is trying to make sure that Black History and awareness are celebrated every month in the year.

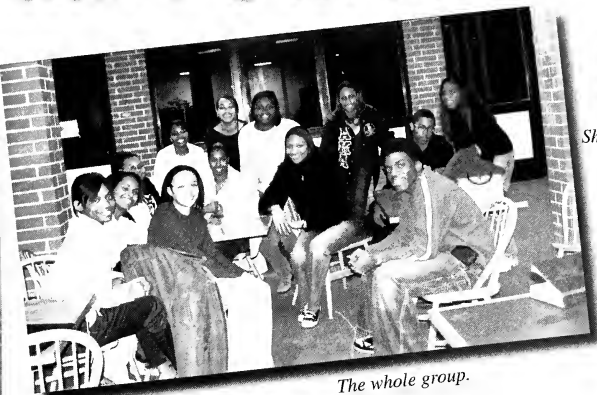

Victoria and Adrienne

The sexy ladies of BSC help a very "sober" Darshun Kendrick celebrate her 21st b-day.

WE'RE BLACK

DENT CAUCUS

The whole group.

Shavonda representin

Gospel Night 2004

Victoria and Brandi get ready to direct the Gospel Choir.

President of BSC, Stephanie, and Treasurer, Victoria

Entory's Choir represented.

Brandi "shakes it like a Polaroid picture"

"Oh no this 'ho didn't!"

Poets Kim Martin and Kenny Lofton tell it like it is.

AND PROUD!!!!

INTERNATIO

The International Club is also another force to be reckoned with. At the start of the semester they took the campus on le tour d'europa with "European Night". Later they gave us a "Bon Fire". In the past, the organization has sponsored events such as "Indian Night" and the annual classic, "International Night", in which the students from other countries wear their native clothing and prepare authentic meals. The one thing that must be said about this group is that, for American students, they sometimes make you wish you were from somewhere else because they seem to have all the FUN!!!

Sophia's definitely got something on her mind!

Next time, don't forget your Green Cards! Nadia, Anita, Liliya, Jodi being deported.

Nadia, Liliya, Jodi-Ann

Anita and Nadia showing love on the slopes

OU's hottest couple, Iman and Veer, help bridge the cultural gap. You go, boys!

NAL CLUB

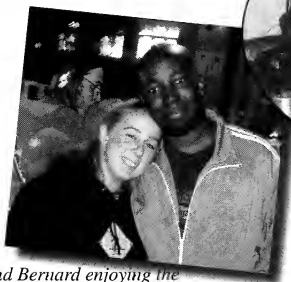

The Whole Crew

Jaymini gettin' her buzz on Jaymini, Nadia, Anita, and Liliya...can I get in on that?!

Emily and Bernard enjoying the Bonfire.

Iman and Anita getting very close...hmmmmmmmmmm

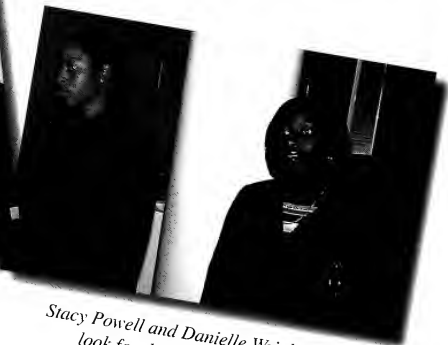

Talk about "full service"!

ACCOUNTING

At some schools, Business majors are looked down upon by the Physics and Engineering students, claiming that the business program is easy and for those that don't want the challenge... but how is it that the Accounting majors leave with the highest starting salaries? (On average, with a Bachelor's Degree, one earn $42,000 starting out). The students in the Accounting Society host receptions in which they are able to meet and mingle with recruiters from large accounting firms in the Atlanta area as well as other national firms. In addition, scholarships are awarded through and to students of the Accounting Society. This networking group also believes in giving back to future Accounting students. Despite all the corporate scandals of the present day, they believe in accountability, integrity, and professionalism.

JD Students speak with prospective employers.

Stacy Powell and Danielle Wright look for their next move.

SOCIETY

Senior Business and Accounting Students at the Etiquette Dinner.

Future accountants

Christina Vinluan and Dr. Weiss stop for a quick picture.

“Informing and Entertaining Oglethorpe Since 1919”

THE STORMY

The Stormy Petrel is not simply just a newspaper. It is the pulse of the Oglethorpe community and the voice of its students. Issues from changes in administration, strategic planning, and University policies are only a few of the topics covered in each issue of The Petrel.

Not content on just being a paper that covers campus issues, The Petrel strives to be abreast of national and international politics and other popular current events. Under the guidance of its Editor-in-chief, The Petrel has managed to remain fresh and inventive for yet another year while increasing its volume of readers.

Popular sections in the newspaper include Features, Humor, and Hindsight.

Angie hard at work on the next issue of the newspaper

The Petrel Staff

My how things have changed since the very first staff!

Layout is a dirty job...for Linda.

Danny is sooo funny that he cracks himself up!

Colin chillin' on the quad

The Petrel Staff

Angela Fitzpatrick
Tim Castor
Jeremy Abernathy
Andrea Wood
Colin Gray
Danny McGuinn
Miriam Brown
Sean Raleigh
Emma Black
Bernard Moore
Cindy Amoh
Alan Zwicker
Linda Dreilinger
Leslie Prall
Danielle Carlson
Kelly Matysik
Matt Corbett
Jon Carter
Ben Minor

Editor-in-Chief
News Editor
Opinions Editor
Features Editor
Humor Co-Editor
Humor Co-Editor
A & E Editor
Sports Editor
Hindsight Co-Editor
Hindsight Co-Editor
International Editor
Business Manager
Layout Editor Distributions
Photo Editor
Copy Editor
Copy Editor
Staff Writer
Staff Writer

Oglethorpe's Literary Magazine

The Tower collects student work--poetry, short stories, artwork, etc. throughout the year and publishes a magazine in the spring. They also sponsor Night of the Arts in the fall and Massacouer, a Valentine's Day celebration and decimation of the holiday.

Jeff Sullivan takes a closer look at the artwork

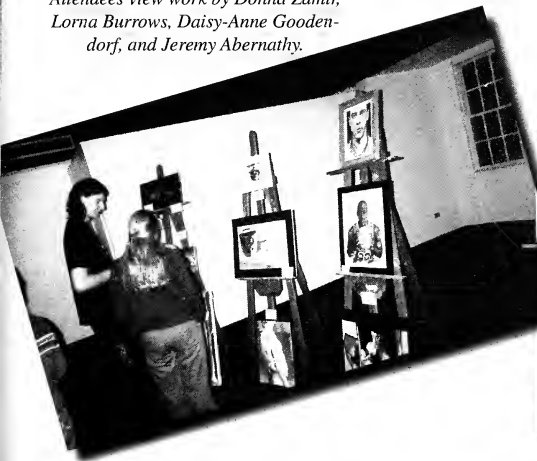

Lauren Peck, editorial staff member

TOWER

Eddie Campbell performs during Night of the Arts

Attendees view work by Donna Zamir, Lorna Burrows, Daisy-Anne Goodendorf, and Jeremy Abernathy.

The Tower's Mr. Scu is looking especially happy.

*Mary Feld admires the work of fellow students
Morgan Rhetts, Bernard Moore, and Charity Pirkle.*

Alums Stephanie and Ainsley enjoy the performances at Night of the Arts

Preserving the memories...

Because the University serves as a “living memorial” to the founder of Georgia, it features many references to the life and legend of General James Oglethorpe. The school yearbook is named the “Yamacraw” after the Native American tribe who befriended him and Georgia. This is also the group that made this book possible. Oglethorpe, indeed, owes a great debt to this group of dedicated students for all of the countless hours spent in the office, gathering historical and recent information about the University, as well as countless other duties.

This year marks the resurrection of the Yamacraw. Though the Yamacraw has the tendency to go out of publication for several years, hopefully, this issue will be the one to break this cycle that has served as a detriment to the preservation of Oglethorpe’s legacy.

Bernard believes that a guitar is like woman. You must know how to strum it with beautiful finesse!

Miss Payne, how do you manage to be so damn amazing?!

Amir, Victoria, and Bisell

Bisell, the rank sentimentalist, captures the beauty and tragedy that is life.

Amir takes time to bond with his one true love

Spokesmodel rejects Charity and Lorna model housewares ala American Gothic

Yamacraw Staff

Editor-in-Chief and Creative Layout Editor:

Bernard Moore

Photography/Layout/
Editing:

Victoria Payne

Editing/Photography/Layout:

Lorna Burrows

Layout/Editing/Photography:

Amir Ghalehgol

Photography/Layout/
Editing:

Bisell McWilliams III

Staff Advisor:
Natalie Dietz

Natalie (Miss Dietz if you're nasty!) during one of her wild "dinner parties"

Dancin' in the Dark

OU Dancers

OU Dancers perform during the Boar's Head Celebration

The OU Dancers team members for 2003-2004 are Charity Pirkle (captain), Laurie Berger, Jessica Griffin, Jessi Sammons, Emily Treumann, and Laura Fitzgerald. The coach is Lauren Montagno, OU alumna, and advisor is Charlie Baube. The team competed in Nashville, TN in an international competition and placed second nationally at the WCA (World Cheer Association) Competition, held Dec. 29-30. The competition will be aired on Fox Sports Net in late March or Early April.

(top to bottom, l-r): Jessica Griffin, Laurie Berger, Jessi Sammons, Laura Fitzgerald, Emily Treumann, and Charity Pirkle.

NCERS

(l-r) Charity Pirkle (captain), Laurie Berger, Jessi Sammons, and Laura Fitzgerald.

Team members and coach Lauren Montagno gather around their prize

Coach Lauren Montagno and Captain Charity Pirkle at competition in Nashville, TN.

The team receives support from a young fan.

URBAN DANCE

2003-2004 Team: Dina Marto, Chantae King, Surayah Odwin, Nayisha Hugh, Anique Childrey, Jessica Pond, Linsay Ciener, Christiana Johnson, Sonal Narottam, Saher Jawed, Sean Freeman, Greta Thompson, Mariyandi Strachan. Not Pictured: Yvonne Druyeh

Founding Members: Kalia Beard, Latrice Williams, Christiana Johnson, Surayah Odwin, Anique Childrey, Sonal Narottam

Urban Dance Steppers, or UDS Illusions, was established in January of 2003. The idea of formulating a dance team with more culture and rhythmic flavor actually began in late 2002. The founders, Chantae King and Sonal Narottam, were in the OU Cafeteria talking about starting another dance team and their determination drove them to find equally determined members. So there you have it. UDS kicked off 2003 by winning a campus talent show and ended the spring semester with a spectacular performance at Stomp the Lawn, performing with top hip-hop acts, such as TI, Cee-Lo, and Baby D. UDS Illusions started the 2003-2004 school year with performances at the Lady Petrels' volleyball games, cheering them on to victory from the stands."

Team members on the sidelines awaiting the year's first performance.

STEPPERS

UDS channel Beyonce during a show-stopping performance.

Members take a moment to pose for a snapshot while cheering from the stands.

UDS shows off stepping skills during half-time at a Lady Petrels volleyball game.

This select group of singers has been a constant force on this campus. They serenade audiences with classics from the Romantic period to the Baroque and Classical periods yet still manage to bring it back with contemporary pieces and modern jazz ballads. The Singers perform, under the direction of Dr. Irwin Ray, in November with their Fall Concert and then again in April with their Spring Concert. Additionally, they perform at the Boar's Head Ceremony and the Honors and Awards Convocation.

Meredith and Bernard make beautiful music together.

Singers Lollie and Rebecca enjoy some well-deserved downtime from Singers rehearsal

SINGERS & CHORALE

The people behind the music, Mrs. Miriam White and Dr. Irwin Ray help enhance the sound of the Singers.

Dr. Ray (the perfectionist) guiding the Singers through a difficult music passage

Elizabeth, Mary and Leah show there's nothing but love in Singers

Another tender moment between Travis and Chad

Week Party

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

The mission of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is to promote the highest standards of friendship, scholarship, and service for our members based upon the ideals set forth by our Founders and as specifically enunciated in the True Gentlemen.

The men of SAE definitely have a way with the ladies!

Chi Phi believes in abstinence.

Chi Phi

Tracing Chi Phi back to its most distant, ancient source, one finds not secret societies of landed gentry or confederations of trade guilds, but rather that the organization's roots are the blood-soaked tradition of piracy. This group of pirates was known especially for being rather more arbitrary and haphazard in its administration violence than other pirates; sometimes the pirates would one day become Chi Phi would even plunder and burn their own ships, only to find the next day that they no way to get home.

Underscoring our combination of ancient piratical codes with our modern, progressive attitudes are the Four Principles of Manhood: Cooperation, Determination, Fortrightness and Injury. This year Chi Phi participated in a Halloween event for children with diabetes. The Brothers of Chi Phi are a strong presence on Oglethorpe's campus. You will find us playing Frisbee on the academic quad, receiving honors on Awards

Day, participating in University Singer's concerts, etc. This amazing social powerhouse that is Chi Phi maintains its image as an amazing social powerhouse (Or ASP, for short).

This year marks the 35th anniversary of the Rho Delta chapter of the Chi Phi Fraternity, and we will celebrate this event with ice sculptures, conviviality, and frustrated abstinence (of course).

Kappa Alpha

*A living Country Time ad! Brothers of KA chillin' out on Bid
Day with some choice ladies.*

The mission of Kappa Alpha Order states that the Kappa Alpha Order seeks to create a lifetime of experience that centers on the reverence to God, duty, honor, character, and gentlemanly conduct as inspired by Robert E. Lee, our spiritual founder.

Jon Chadwick reading a book

Nathan Blong demonstrates KA dating rituals.

Delta Sigma Phi

Almost eighty years ago, a group of men with foresight and courage established the Alpha Nu chapter of the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity at Oglethorpe University. Today, we follow in their footsteps, that the world may ever be convinced of the sincerity of our purpose.

These ladies are obviously enjoying themselves at the "Get Lei'd" party!

Dean Doyle takes time out to hang with Delta Sigs Faisal and Kevin.

Chi Omega

Sisters are Forever

Chi Omega is the largest women's fraternal organization in the world with 240,000 initiates and over 170 collegiate chapters. Since its beginning, Chi Omega has nurtured its members by providing them with unique opportunities in leadership, in scholarship, and in life long friendship.

Maggie and Jen enjoy Bid day festivities.

3 Sisters in a bed...every heterosexual man's dream!

Sigma Sigma Sigma

We Are Family!

As the world's only international sorority Sigma Sigma Sigma is committed to its sisters around the globe, as well as to each individual in the chapter. Sisterhood and working together is an important part of Sigma Sigma Sigma.

The many faces of Tri Sigma

SPORTS

WOMEN'S

The 2003-2004 Petrels return with a new look after bidding farewell to two four year contributors. With incredible depth on the perimeter, this Petrels squad will look to utilize its team speed and strength on the perimeter. Seniors Alyson Adkisson and Nichole Gilleland will lead the way from the outside. Last season Nichole finished second in the SCAC for three-pointers per game. She and Alyson combined to shoot a remarkable 36% from the floor. Joining Laine Bradshaw (8th in the SCAC in assists) and Hannah York at the guard spots are three talented sophomores Megan Elliot, Erin Flynn and Tiffany Williams. All six of these ladies can hit the three and are legitimate threats from the outside.

Inside the Petrels return Katie Michalczyk, Julie Colantoni and Kirbie Smith. Joining this group are Sophomore Stefie Jo Janssen and Freshman Brittany Corbett. Katie was the conferences second leading rebounder and Julie finished 6th in the conference in scoring. Brittany and Kirbie will present match-up problems for opponents because of their ability to play inside and out. With the leadership of two seniors on the perimeter and the addition of four talented newcomers, the 2003-2004 squad is the most talented from top to bottom.

BASKETBALL

In the Battle of the Worst Mascots, the Banana Slugs defeat the Petrels.

C'mon. Get at'er!

These ladies are fierce!

'03-'04 Stats

Opponent	Result
Piedmont	W 87-81
Emmanuel	L 80-90
LaGrange	L 74-76
Agnes Scott	W 76-43
Emory	L 68-85
Wesleyan	W 96-56
Piedmont	L 105-109 (OT)
Maryville	L 98-71
Rhodes	L 62-68
Hendrix	W 72-63
Milsaps	W 81-72
UC Santa Cruz	L 68-74
Maryville	L 76-87
Trinity	L 63-95
Southwestern	L 59-69
Rose-Hulman	L 75-97
Depauw	L 72-102
Sewanee	L 69-86
Centre	W 97-69
Rhodes	L 113-116 (OT)
Hendrix	L 70-81
Milsaps	L 63-66
Emory	W 77-75

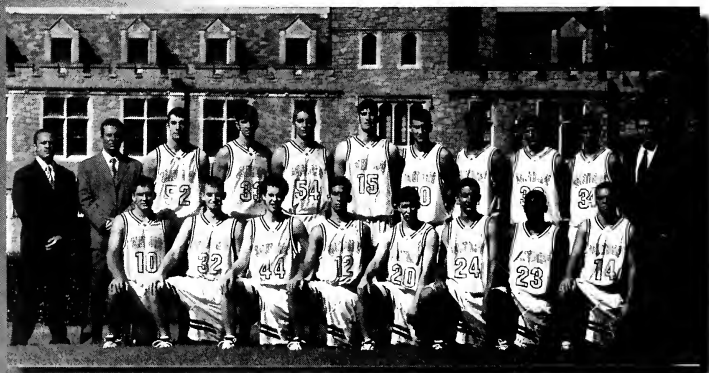

MEN'S BA

Josh Burr kicks back before a home game

The 2003-2004 Petrels return ready to take on all opposition with new players and solid, returning players. Though the Petrels won 11 of their 25 games this season, the team retained their passion for the game and their determination to bring victory to this institution.

This season saw the initiation of Senior Russ Churchwell into the prestigious "1000 Club" and a special salute to Senior players from both men's and women's basketball. The 2003-2004 team roster consisted of Joel Alzola (G), Terry Bailey (G), Nathan Blong (P), Josh Burr (G), Russ Churchwell (F), John Cross (W), Jason Darland (G), Eric Dickinson (W), Jon Gabriel (G), Jason Gemeiner (G), Andrew Tulowitzky (G), John Williams (P), Brett Wise (F), Whit Yelton (P) and Matt Woodruff (P). The Petrels were coached by Ed Wilson, Philip Ponder, and OU alum Barrett Karvis. Congrats on a good season, guys!

The Stormy Petrels

SKETBALL

Coaches Ed Wilson, Philip Ponder, and Barrett Karvis

The Petrel's fans are a colorful lot.

Seniors Russ Churchwell and Nicole Gil-land after being initiated into the "1000 Club".

'03-'04 Stats

Opponent	Result
LaGrange	L 97-103 (OT)
Maryville	L 64-68
Shorter	L 76-85
Warren Wilson College	W 91-40
Emory	L 91-102
University of Puget Sound	W 105-97
Rhodes	W 78-69
Hendrix	W 82-43
Millsaps	W 84-64
Carver Bible College	W 113-63
Warren Wilson College	W 88-22
Maryville College	L 76-94
Trinity	L 67-88
Southwestern	L 74-100
Rose-Hulman	L 56-74
Depauw	L 62-94
Sewanee	L 68-82
Centre	L 81-86
LaGrange	L 88-103
Rhodes	W 68-67
Hendrix	W 74-73
Millsaps	L 71-75
Emory	W 81-89
Trinity	L 66-68
Southwestern	W 84-76

MEN'S SOCCER

Season Highlights

Freshman Frank Monteleone was honored by the SCAC as Newcomer of the Year. He led the Stormy Petrels in scoring with 13 goals and 2 assists in only 15 games. "Frank had an amazing season. He was injured and saw limited minutes in 4 of his 15 games," said Coach Akin.

The Petrels in action

Frank Monteleone, Chris Freidenstein, Jonathan Bassler, Zack Atkinson, Josh Rosendahl, Anthony Thompson, Eric Horne, were all nominated for All-Conference this season.

Chris goes for the gold

'03-'04 Stats

Season Record 4-10-2

9/2	Piedmont	L 1-8
9/6	Emory & Henry	W 2-1
9/9	LaGrange	W 4-0
9/12	Shorter	W 8-0
9/17	Emory	L 0-3
9/23	Brewton Parker	L 2-3
9/29	Huntingdon	T 1-1
10/3	Trinity	L 0-3
10/5	Southwestern	L 0-6
10/10	Hendrix	T 2-2
10/12	Rhodes	L 0-2
10/24	DePauw	L 0-2
10/26	Rose-Hulman	L 2-3
10/31	Centre	L 1-2
11/2	Sewanee	L 2-3
11/9	Millsaps	W 6-1

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Season Highlights

The lady Petrels had six seniors play the final game of their career at Millsaps on Nov 9th. The seniors went out in grand fashion with a 2-0 shutout win over Conference opponent Millsaps. "Those six seniors were the backbone of the program for four years. We will miss them very much," stated Head Coach Jon Akin.

Senior Anna Rhett Cobb was nominated as the SCAC defensive player of the year. Cobb anchored the Petrel's defense that was solid all year long. Freshman Stephanie Chapman is up for the SCAC Newcomer of the Year Award. Chapman led the Petrel's in scoring with six goals and two assists for 12 total points.

'03-'04 Stats

Season Record 6-10-2

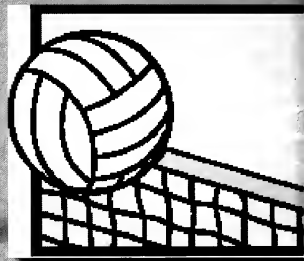

9/2	Piedmont	L 0-1
9/6	Emory & Henry	W 9-2
9/9	LaGrange	W 2-0
9/12	Spellman	W 5-0
9/18	Wesleyan	T 1-1
9/23	Brewton Parker	W 3-0
9/26	Emory	L 1-0
9/29	Huntingdon	W 2-1
10/3	Trinity	L 0-6
10/5	Southwestern	L 0-4
10/10	Hendrix	L 1-2
10/12	Rhodes	L 0-2
10/16	Agnes Scott	T 1-1
10/24	DePauw	L 0-5
10/26	Rose-Hulman	L 1-3
10/31	Centre	L 0-6
11/2	Sewanee	L 0-5
11/8	Millsaps	W 2-0

VOLLEYBALL

Stormy Petrel Volleyball Embraces New Era

Senior Kelly Matysik becomes exclusive member of the Triple Thousand Club; Team finishes 7th all time in SCAC in service aces; Matysik first Player of the Week since 1999.

The Lady Petrel volleyball team took a small step forward to bringing the program to the level which is expected by new coach Dan Giordano. Even though the Petrels finished 9-23, 3-15 in conference matches, the team took strides in the right direction. Playing one of the toughest schedules in Division III, with six matches against Top 25 teams and five matches against NAIA and Division II schools the Petrels held their own and refused to back down against anyone. The future is bright and with hard work these Petrels may be battling for a conference championship in years to come.

The lovely Lady Petrels

GOLF

The Men's Golf Team

The Intensity

The golf team at OU has consistently performed well and has very respectable division rankings. Senior Trent Erb is ranked 4th in Par 4 Scoring for Division 3 player, Junior Corey Garner is ranked 3rd in the Division for Fairways hit and Sophomore Joe Green is ranked 10th in the same category. Trent Erb is also #1 in Greens in Regulation and Corey Garner is 10th. OU is #1 in Greens in Regulation and in Total Short Game. Overall, the team is ranked 11th in the Division.

The Focus

The Drive: Brian Norman's powerful swing at work.

The Women's Golf Team

BASEBALL

“They’re back! [With] lots of potential,” reads an article in The Stormy Petrel about OU’s baseball team. Though the team has suffered the loss of five players (including four starters) from last season, the Petrels still possess a “we’re gonna make it after all” attitude toward each game. However, whether or not this attitude will help the Petrels rebound from a 9-game losing streak is yet to be determined.

The 2004 team roster consists of Brian Asher(INF/P), J.T. Baker (OF/P), Scott Casey(1B), Nick Cassell (C), Charles Coke(INF), Jonathan Chadwick(INF), Nelson Davis (INF), Matt Diaz (P), Tim Ernst (OF), Jimmy Hess (P), Robert Johnson (INF), Brent Jones (INF), Ken Magness (P), Jake Russ (OF/C), Anthony Sabala (C), Mike Shaw (P), Brad Sims (P1B), Ryan Wallace(P), and Chris West (C). The baseball team is coached by OU alum Dan Giordano, Bill Popp, and Jim Cater.

‘03-’04 Stats

Southern Tech	L 9-11
Rhodes	L 2-8
Millsaps	L 2-14
Washington & Lee	L 2-9
Piedmont	L 1-2
Washington & Lee	L 5-8
LaGrange	L 6-25
LaGrange	L 4-5
Emory	L 3-9
Piedmont	2/26/04
Wabash	2/29/04
Bridgewater	3/1/04
North Georgia	3/2/04
Adrian	3/3/04
Bridgewater	3/5/04
Denison	3/6/04
Lynchburg	3/9/04
Centre	3/13, 3/14
Heidelberg	3/17, 3/18
Maryville	3/18/04
Buena Vista	3/23/04
DePauw	3/26-3/28
Huntingdon	3/31/04
Sewanee	4/9, 4/10
North Georgia	4/13/04
LaGrange	4/14/04
Rose-Hulman	4/16-4/18

Coach Popp

Hey batter, batter:

Brad Sims #30 at the plate

#32 Ryan Wallace winds up

TENNIS

Oglethorpe Men's Tennis looks to be much improved. With the addition of two solid freshmen that will contend for high positions, Oglethorpe has better depth. Daniel Close and Paul Woodham return to add valued leadership and along with Freshman Drue Malone will contend for the top spots. Freshman John Esterline joins two year letterman Chris Peck in giving us good mid depth. SR Aaron Whitworth moves from #4 to battle Chris Pape at #6. Our doubles will be stronger, and lends hopes of raising our level of Conference play as they strive for an overall winning record.

The Lady Petrels tennis Team

Although young with 3 freshman and two sophomores, Oglethorpe's Women's Team looks much improved. Three-year Letterman Danielle Wright returns but will be pushed by exchange student Celine Thimel for the top position. Frosh Antoinette Niland looks secure in the #3 spot, and may challenge upward as the season progresses. Tiffany Williams and Ashley Morrison will add solid depth as they return in the spring after Volleyball and Soccer seasons. Caroline King, Lauren Bundy and Maggie Khoury will add competitiveness at the bottom of the slate. With some hard work, the Women's team hopes to improve on last years winning 8-7 record and 9th place finish in the Conference.

Jon Baker channels Andre Aggasi for his serve

Administration & Staff

Formerly thought of as a group of Satan's minions created to bring pain, suffering, and frustration to the students of this fair university, the administration of Oglethorpe has received a "facelift" this year with the addition of Dr. David Rhodes as V.P. of Enrollment and Dr. Tim Doyle as Dean of Students. Also, returning staff members have helped to make this year a great one. Kudos!

Dr. Larry Large, President, greeting Freshman James McClary

Dr. David Rhodes, VP Enrollment

Dr. Chris Ames, Provost

Mrs. Cindy Sexton, Admission Counselor

Dr. Tim Doyle, Dean of Students

Ms. Tacoma Robinson, Admission Office

Mrs. Meghan Schubert, Admission Counselor

Mrs. Barb Henry,
Alumni Office

Mr. Chris Summers,
Admission Counselor

John Sexton, Admission Counselor in Training

Mr. Carl Lubbe, Admission Counselor

Ms. Janet Grant,
Financial Aid

Ms. Jamie Wojdowski, Ms. Wilma Hutto, Ms. Angie Conner, Financial Aid

Chuck Wingo, Bookstore

Mrs. Nancy Keita, Ms. Jamie
Wojdowski, Ms. Susan Bacher, Registrar's Office

Mr. Rus Drew, Security

Business Office

Mr. Tom Namey, Digital Media Wizard

Mr. Heath Coleman,
Public Relations

Kay Hawkings, Nathalie Mesadieu-Williams, Tonia
Minor, Joshua Waller, Karen Carter, Gina Laney, University College

Ms. Sharon Roth, Grounds

Faculty

Dr. James Bohart, Music

Unlike most faculty at other universities, the faculty along with the ever-important staff of Oglethorpe University are...special. They possess that certain "something" that makes students clamour to hear their deep and insightful lectures on topics ranging from eugenics and its implications to ancient sex toys that are now regarded as pre-historic art. Regardless what is said about the faculty and staff of Oglethorpe University, one thing rings especially true and that is without them attending this fine institution would not be an uncommon experience. Thank you for your constant support.

Dr. Douglas McFarland, English

Junior English major Virginia Brown debating the finer points of life.

Sophomore Matt Corbett showing his love for Dr. McFarland.

"To rhyme or not to rhyme..." the eternal question of writing poetry.

Dr. Irwin Kay, Music

Dr. Linda Taylor, English

Dr. William Brightman, English

Dr. John Carton, Psychology

Dr. Philip Neujahr, Philosophy

Dr. Seema Shrikhande, Communications

Dr. John Orme, Political Studies

Dr. Bradford Smith, History

Dr. Jason Wirth, Philosophy

Dr. Brad Stone, Sociology

Dr. Alan Woolfolk, Sociology

Dr. Nicholas Maher, History

Dr. Robert Steen, Japanese

Ms. Suzanne Hanssum, German

Dr. Jay Lutz, French

Dr. Viviana Plotnik, Spanish

Dr. Caroline Noyes, Education/Psychology

Dr. Mario Chandler, Spanish

Dr. Ginger Williams, Education

Dr. Beth Roberts, Education

Dr. Lynn Gieger, Education

Dr. Joe Knippenberg, Politics

Dr. Stephen Herschler, Politics

Dr. Kendra King, Politics

Dr. Elizabeth Johnson,
Psychology,

Mr. David Alvis, Politics and
Dr. Peter Kower, Economics

Dr. Roberta Deppe,
Psychology

Dr. Philip Tiu, Mathematics

Dr. Cassandra Copeland, Economics

Dr. Dean Tucker, Business/Economics

Dr. Christian Benton, Accounting

Dr. Robert Blumenthal, Mathematics

Dr. John Nardo, Mathematics

Dr. Ronald Carlisle, Computer Science

Mrs. Holly Middlemis, Accounting

Dr. Keith Aufderheide, Chemistry

Dr. John Cramer, Physics

Dr. Roarke Donnelly, Ecology

Dr. Michael Rulison, Physics

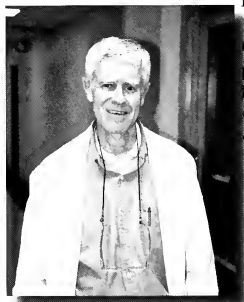

Dr. Monte Wolf, Chemistry

Dr. Charles Baube, Biology

Dr. Dan Schadler, Biology

Dr. Phil Zinsmetster, Biology

Not Pictured:

- Ms. Beverly Armento, Education
- Mr. Matthew Buyert, Philosophy
- Dr. Robert Carton, Business Administration
- Dr. Jeffrey Collins, Study Abroad
- Ms. Joy Fuchs, Education
- Dr. Bruce Hetherington, Economics
- Dr. Robert Hornback, English
- Dr. Rebecca Hyman, English
- Ms. Carole Katz, Sociology
- Ms. Catherine Kelley, Art
- Mrs. Lee Knippenberg, Theatre
- Mr. Alan Loehle, Art
- Dr. Nancy Marcus, Core
- Dr. Alex Martin, History
- Dr. Ed Matthews, Science Lab
- Dr. Jeanne McCarthy, English
- Mrs. Jane Medlin, Foreign Language
- Dr. Anne Rosenthal, Communications
- Mrs. Margaret Smith, Politics
- Dr. Cheryl Sullivan, Education
- Ms. Angela West, Art
- Mr. Chadwick Yarborough, Theatre

Our apologies to those who are not here pictured. Many professors were on sabbatical when pictures were taken, others were just unavailable. Stick around and we will get you next year.

From left to right: Shelby Dominick (Career Services), Collin Gillis, Ramona Lathbury, Casey Pellegrini, Alan Loehle (Art Instructor), Anne Goodendorf, and Lorna Burrows pictured at Skot Foreman Fine Arts, Ltd. during a trip to the Castleberry Hill Arts District

The lovely Janelle Smith showcases her lovely trademark smile.

Library staffers, Joanne Yendle and Ann Salter, smile for the camera after Boar's Head.

Director of Museum Operation, Kathleen Guy, enjoys a night out with her son Duncan ("Charlie Brown").

Student Affairs staffers Joe Locascio and Natalie Dietz take a moment to revel in their greatness.

The Faculty Talent Showcase

The faculty and staff talent show was indeed a rare opportunity for students to see professors as well as other members of the administrative staff outside of a professional context.

Spectators were treated to musical performances from the likes of Chad Yarborough, Carl Lubbe, and Dr. John Orme, original spoken word pieces by Ms. Janet Grant and Dr. Chandler, and a show-stopping skit performed by members of the Psychology, Mathematics, and Education departments.

Despite all this talent, only one could be crowned winner. Ms. Janet Grant won the coveted Maggiano's Dinner for two as well as the adulation of the audience. This event showed all in attendance that the talents of the faculty extend beyond the classrooms and their respected offices.

Heartbreak never sounded so good! Carl Lubbe bares his soul for the audience.

Dr. Nardo flexes his acting muscles while showing love for the lady in his life, Peepers.

Members of the Ed., Psych., and Math departments re-enact a scene from your "average" Ogletrope classroom.

Ms. Janet mesmerizes the audience with an original spoken word piece.

Dr. Deppe and colleagues fake interest during their faculty meeting.

Dr. Carton proclaims his devotion to Clay Aiken during this "faculty meeting gone terribly awry".

The man and his music. Dr. Orme tickles the old ivory.

It's all about #Me

SENI

Seniors

TOPICS

Why is it so senior

Being a senior is great because...well, look at them! They are sooo glamorous and are about to making some major waves! Damn! I can't wait to be a senior!

10. Knowing what p

9. Constant, drunken

8. Being able to pick

7. Evoking fear in u

6. Being done with c

5. No more cafeteria

4. No more "walks

3. Feeling of superior

2. Seeing and knowi

a

1. Leaving O

great to be a rior?

professors to avoid n Paris Hilton style parties up freshmen nderclassmen ore

a food

o' shame" rity ng all nd...

glethorpe!

SENIORS

Beaumont

Thomas Abbruttian

James Anderson

Joseph Atz

Emma Black

English and Early Childhood Education

Stephanie Bonner

Accounting

Bri Sandline
Anderson

Jenn Brown

Early Childhood Education

Nathan Taylor

A

Biology

History

■ Carolyn Culbertson

Philosophy

■ Andrew Duensing

Business Administration

■ Angela Fitzpatrick

English

■ Amir Ghaleghol

Biology

■ Nicholas Lileland

Business and Computer Science

Lisa Fossett

Psychology

Colin

Biology

Brian Jones

Kalanda Kambeva

Earl Sun Kendrick

Nataliya Kovalenko

Politics and Communications

Biopsychology

Jenna Lea

Politics

Kelly Matysik

International Studies

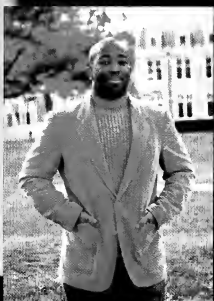

Rachel McKnight

Bernard Moore

Psychology

Jayme Layee

Biology

Kim Norasing

Psychology

David Norbery

Art

ather Orth

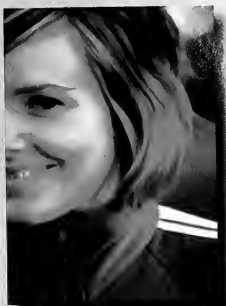

ogy

Victoria Payne

Business Administration

Cassandra Pe

Art

Jodi Pessoa

Biology

Katy Purwin

Business Administration

Angela Scobey

Philosophy

Leslie Shaffer

English

Joseph Singh

Christian Studies

Stephanie St

Psychology

Valyncia Smith

Biopsychology

Mary Straub

Biology

Thompson

ology and communications

Erin Weller

English

Michelle Spann

Sociology with a Social Work Concentration

Pauline Tecklenburg

Accounting

Christina Vinluan

Accounting

Hayden Willis

History

Ethan Winger

Psychology

Paul Woodham

Paul Woodham

Accounting

Donna Zamir

Art and Communications

Just call her Miss Payne

Victoria Payne

Senior Class President
While at Oglethorpe University:

I have been in several organizations during my tenure here: the Stormy Petrel, Yamacraw, Rendez-Vous, Black Student Caucus, Ambassadors, Omicron Delta Kappa, Beta Omicron Sigma, the Gospel Choir, Oglethorpe Student Association, Programming Board, and Senate.

What I think about myself:

I am a child of God, motivated by my God-given purpose and desire to make a difference in this world. I am a poet, a writer, a photographer, an artist, a singer, a songwriter, an actress, a Queen, a role model, a motivator, an enthusiast, an optimist and a Christian. I love to share my smile and contentment with others. I have goals of becoming a contracted-singer, an actress, a producer of music, a middle school choir teacher, a free-lance photographer, a beauty professional (a beautician), a wife, and a mother. I am also a product of what my parents have poured in to me as well as my experiences. The most important thing is that I love the Lord, and I want to do His will for my life. We can't make it through life on our own; we all need somebody.

Donna Zanir turning people into stone

the rest

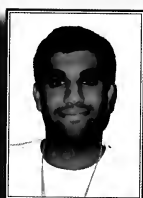

These losers are way too cool to participate in a senior picture retake. So, as punishment, their I.D. pictures will have to suffice for their senior picture. Some say the pictures are awful and others...Hey! You be the judge. Let this serve as a lesson for all to support Yamacraw and class events!

Kasim Ahmed

Johanna Almon

Adrian Amin

Scott Anderson

Aaron Bean

Martene Bell

David Bogges

Andrew Brush

Cristina Casabianca

Andrea Clayberg

Lee Corum

Carina Eberle

Elma Edrene
Seniors

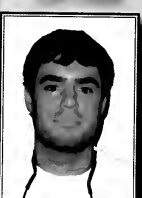

Lydia Ellington

Tara Lynn Fagley

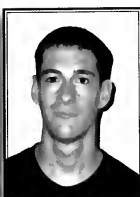

Kim Garbow

Edward Gillis

Justin Ginn

Kevin Gordon

Sean Hickey

Douglas Highsmith

Eric Hill

Lashunda Isaih

Faisal Johnson

Chris Koda-Massey

Hong Le

Rachel Lehr

Carlina Lender

Carisa Lindsay

Joseph Luke

Jennifer Marshall

Ashley Morrison

Kelly Napier

Melissa Patterson

Stephanie Peccia

Alfonso Piacquadio

Mary Prince

Morgan Rhets

Micki Smith

Demise Solomon

Scu

Chris Stanley

Jennifer Triplett

Caleb Verbos

Chris West

Aaron Whitworth

Emily Whitworth

Lean Yarbrough

Seniors

Seniors

"Beyonce and her biotches better watch out because she's got competition from me and my biotches!"

-Amira announcing "her" arrival on the scene

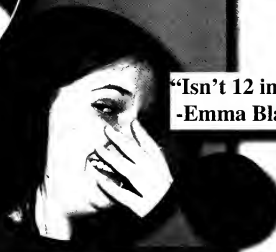

"You're going to hell on a scholarship."

-Stephanie Bonner-Wiggins on Bernard's lack of class attendance

"It's not that b@#$h's first time!"

-Erin Weller's comment on deception in porn.

"Isn't 12 inches a bit excessive?"

-Emma Black on the merit of 12 inches.

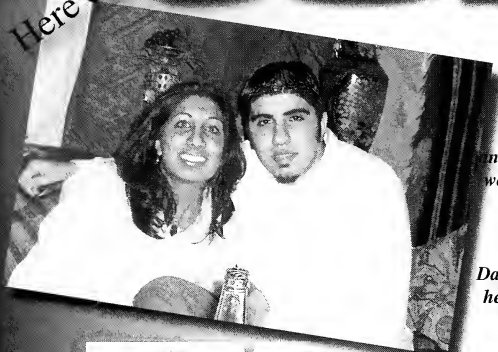

The ACCURSED Share

(a.k.a. Underclassmen)

Here come the...

JUNIORS

Awww... and they said it wouldn't last!

Danielle Carlson losing her "drinking cherry" on her 21st B-Day

Javier Agosto

Kionne August

Cary Aurand

Anita Bachlani

Margaret Bailey

Pharadia Bastien

Laurie Berger

Rachel Bohan

Beth Bosserman

Ron Bowers

Season Broughton

Virginia Brown

Mark Burke

Conor Carey

Danielle Carlson

Beth and Sahara sexing it up for the camera.

Gal pals Cat and Linda during a wild night out.

Jonathan Baker

Carla Banderas

Jillian Barcroft

Rizwan Barkatullah

Kathryn Barrett

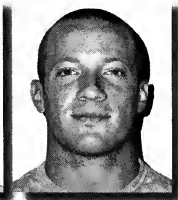

Sara Bowers

Kristin Bowman

Aaron Boyd

Holen Brady

Amy Brewer

Anna Chopra

Andrew Clark

David Close

Katherine Cofer

Nakia Coleman

Tom Collins

Hugh Connerty

Alden Curtis

Richard Dasque

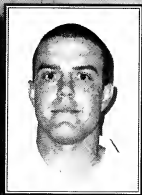

Amy Davis

Stephen Deans

Mi-Hung Fang

Randal Garner

Charles Ghee

'05

Izumi Hamada

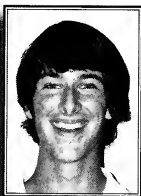

Robin Jones

Liliya Kovalenko

Laura Kraich

R. G. Lamar

Cat Lawler

Amy Lester

Kalliyu Wlenczyk

Lean Mickens

Holly Mitchell

Sonal Narottam

Alipi Naydenov

Kim Nicholson

Sonal Patel
Juniors

Crysta Paul

Christopher Peck

Lauren Peck

Tamara Perry

Robert Peterson

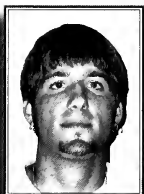

Emily Dejarne

Linda Dreilinger

Christopher Dyer

William Erwin

Tiffany Hatfield

Rebecca Hayes

Stephanie Henschel

Melisha John-Baptiste

Kadesha Little

Jillian Martin

Aaron McGinnis

Joshua McIntyre

Anastasia Orlov

Sally Palmer

Kerry Pastern

Sajal Patel

Lisa Pettee

Beau Pirkle

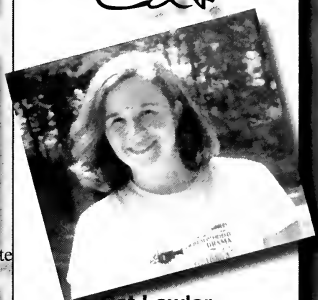

Charity Pirkle

Stacy-Ann Powell

A Woman Called Cat

Cat Lawler

Junior Class President

Major: English and Politics

Favorite Color: Pink, pink, and more pink

Quest: To save the world, obviously

Fave Junior Class Activity:

Trivia Night at Mellow Mushroom - Even if the Juniors can't win at trivia, at least we know how to heckle other teams and eat lots of pizza!

Fave Word: Cornucopia

Bestest College Experiences:

Alpha Phi Omega, summer study abroad in Florence, corn mazing, concerts, movie nights in the dorm, arguing about COR, classes outside on the academic quad, excursions to Atlanta, whining about cafeteria food, all of it!

Advice to underclassmen: Get involved with activities and friends. They can take you anywhere from hilarious wild goose chases through Atlanta, spur of the moment road trips or marching through campus with blindfolds on!

Stacy Powers

Leslie Prall

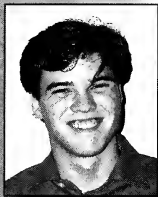

Rebekah Schiller

Jill Sharitt

Joy Simmons

James Turner

Zachary VanHoven

Leigh Vaughn

Casey Wallace

Richard Wright

Tamara is obviously excited about her lay...I mean 'lei'.

Kionne's getting ready to hit it...are you ready?

Wakeela Simpson

Elizabeth Slade

Kelly Spangler

Courtney Terrell

Ashley Toney

Luis Dominguez

Oh! And....

Cat and Kim on the prowl...

Josh spies something worth running for.

Are you ready for these sexy Sigma sisters?

Sophomores

do it better!

Leah Abel

Jeremy Abernathy

Helena Adams

Susan Ahn

Tesfa Allen

Helen Beattie

Michele Beeken

Brittany Bennett

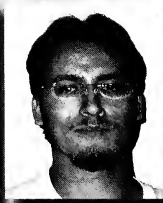

Nathan Blong

Liselle Bovell

Carissa Carson

Jon Carter

Sophia Casusky

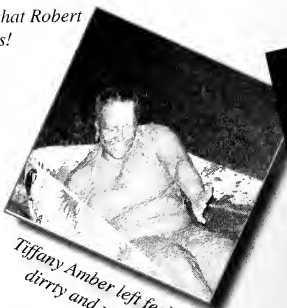

Jonathan Chadwick

Veer Chahwala

We KNOW what Robert likes!

Tiffany Amber left feeling dirty and rejected.

Laura Kraich is really excited about something. What else is new?

Chi Phi Bros Tommy and Collin show us that frat boys need love too.

Jenee Amodeo

David Anderson

Miranda Atnip

Rachel Bailey

Jonathan Bassler

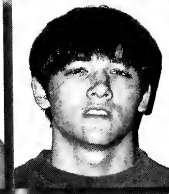

Melissa Boviero

Laine Bradshaw

Miriam Brown

Jonathan Carl

Charles Carmichael

Anique Childrey

Mary Cogan

Matt Corbett

Ariel Crooks

Jewelia Dakin

Laura Darnell

Jonathan Davis

Thomas Davis

Jason Duhac

Ramiro Duran

Yasmin Epple

Krysty Evans

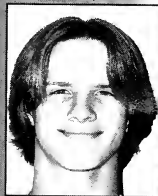

Danielle Ford

Alicia Fusaro

Will Galloway

Ryan Hanlin

Lauren Harris

Melissa Henrichs

Geoff Hetherington

James Hill

Krysty seems content being the meat in this Geoff and Matt sandwich.

Tiana showing much love for the younger set

Tara Duttonhaver

Mandy Eckerl

Kimberly Edmiston

Alex Edwards

Lisa Ellis

Susan Galvan

Kara Glielmi

Brandon Grant

Jessica Griffin

Kristin Hagan

Jesse Hinson

Ifer Hofstetter

Margaret Hoover

Deidre Hubbard

Jennifer Iddings

Care for a drink ladies?

Annemarie Ippolito

Stefanie Jo Janssen

Tiana Johnson

Robert Johnston

Whit Johnstone

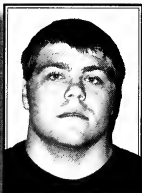

Emily Jones

Michelle Jones

Jennifer Keck

Thaddeus Kennedy

Thomas Kennedy

Joselyn Kenyana

Caroline King

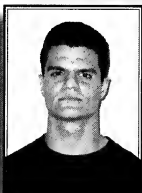

Svetlana Kovalenko

Abigail Kurland

Tommy Layman

Daniel Lemus

Lauren Leonard

Sarah Letson

Theresa Lindo

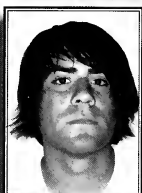

Brooke Mangum

Kate March

Allison Martin

Daniel Martinez

Dina Marto

Grace McGee

Margaux McGinnis

Sahara McGraw

Meredith McKay

Bisell McWilliams

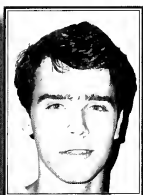

Mayur Nayee

Nhan Nguyen

Cameron Octigan

Piercen Oliver

Sarah Opp

Chris Pape

Rachel Parton

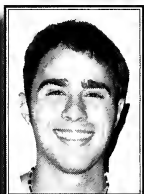

Rebecca Puckett

Mark Raczynski

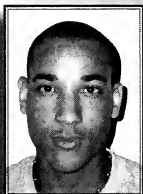

Sean Raleigh

Ronald Remington

Banana Boy

Eugene Rivers

Courtney Roberts

Susan Royal

Terrance Ruth

Jessie Sammons

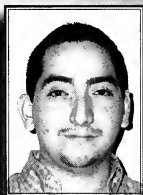

Leah Sanders

James Scott

Mary Seagrave

Diego Sebastian

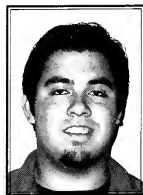

The Man Behind The Class

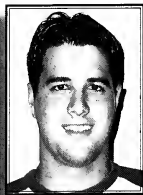

Eugene Rivers II
Sophomore Class President

On December 2nd, 20003, his fans cheered his name. "Eugene! Eugene!" Well it did not happen quite like that, but I had fans nonetheless. So, remember you are all fans of mine. This is not a funny story, but the Public Speaking final was the greatest. Hey, if anyone needs me to inspire a large group of people with my great skills, please call INS-SPIRE! This, like my ability to speak in front of people and be as cool as Bernard, is just a joke. Thanks for your support at the final!

The above photo was taken before Eugene murdered Bernard after he yelled "Don't Suck" at Eugene's Public Speaking final.*

Michael Shaw

Brad Sims

Kirbie Smith

Quiana Smith

Barbara Spence

Rick Stengard

Maryandri Strachan

Stephanie Stroud

Marie Lawless

Kyle Taylor

Chad Turner

Sharmaine Turner

Alice Veciunca

Tarleton Walmsley

Kelli Weatherall

Amanda Wheat

Darrin Williams

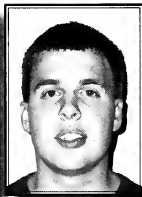

Lucien Williams

Tiffany Williams

Jen Wilson

John Wilson

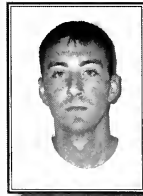

Brett Wise

Whitney Wood

Arleen Wien

Andrew Yelton

Hannah York

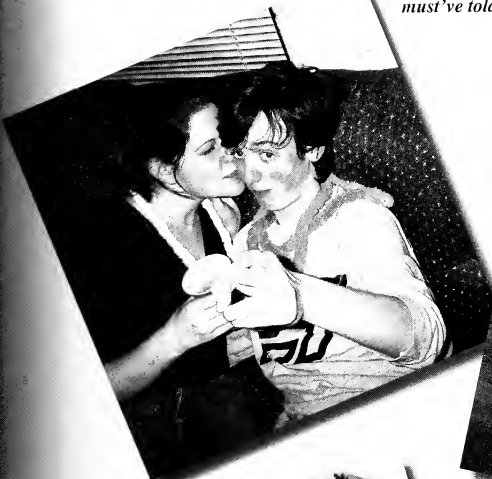

Sara Zipperer

Alan Zwicker

By the look on his face, Meredith must've told Brent something he likes!

Whit at a frat party?! 'nuf said.

Are we interrupting something?

The man who has it all-looks, a great head of hair, and women.

SON

Crystal Harris

Bethlehem Abera

What was the best thing about being a Freshman?

"The guys think you're hot because you're fresh meat...sick-o's!"

-Crystal Harris

Ali Colvard

Katie Anderson

"It's great to be a Freshman because of the abundance of sex on campus. Everywhere you go, whether it be a Chi Phi party, a Chi Phi event, or a Chi Phi member, you'll always find some ass!"

-Ali Colvard

"Because of Bernard."

-Amanda Nichols

Jesse Bailey

Anna Baltz

Sandra Bandejas

Alexandra Battito

Erika Bennett

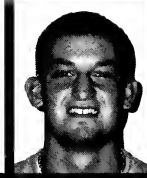

Jesse Briggs

Lauren Bundy

Charles Burkhart

Josh Burr

April Callen

Maurice Cheeks

Nicholas Christman

Lindsay Ciener

Michaela Cilento

Catherine Clark

Anna Adair

John Agel

Monjuri Aimee

Brian Asher

Cheryl Atkinson

Zack Atkinson

Maria Berg

Jessica Binkley

Megan Bolado

Eddie Campbell

Scott Casey

Stephanie Chapman

Kristy Clodfelter

David Cohen

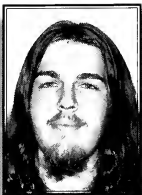

Eric Cohen-Greenberg

Ali Colvard

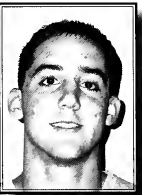

Sean Cook

Brittany Corbett

Jaclyn Crissey

Jason Darland

Amanda DeGrave

Yvonne Druyeh

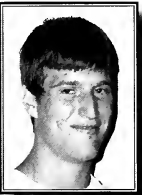

Edwin Dudley

Brett Dutton

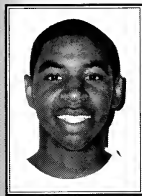

Molly Ellis

Tim Ernst

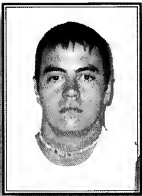

John Esterline

Sean Freeman

Lee Freidstein

Jon Gabriel

Rachel Gandy

Emily Gantert

Rachel Garcia

Elizabeth Giddens

Lauren Gluck

Joseph Green

Dallas Greene

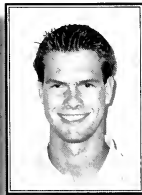

Caiti Grendahl

Christina Griffin

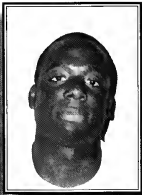

Crystal Harris

Lars Haugstad

James Hess

Erik Horne

Deirdre Hubbard

Nayisha Hugh

Genevieve Dempre

Tintot Deng

Eric Dickinson

Winston Douglas

Dylan Evans

Laura Fitzgerald

Erin Flynn

Claire Fontaine

Kimber Garrison

Amanda Gearhart

Sela Gebremeskel

Jason Gemeiner

Travis Griffin

Lucas Griffith

Lucie Hall

Aliste Harris

Gwenda Hughes

Pamela Hughes

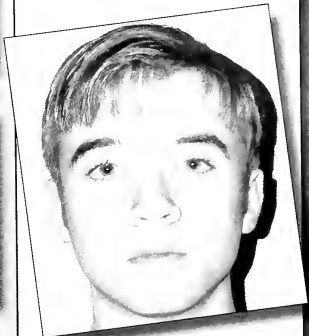

Adam Humar

Lindsay Ibarra

Who's That Guy?

Why, that's Alex Johnson the Freshman Class Prez!

Age: 18

Birthday: February 14th, 1985

Major: Politics

Part of the following organizations: Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, OSA, ECOS, Student Ambassadors, Chess Club

Planned future career:

Air Force Pilot then Law or Political Office

Why do you dress in all black most of the time?

I feel like it and it gets interesting reactions out of people.

In reality, do "Chicks dig scrawny pale guys?"

Yes. You can find my number in the OSA office.

Saher Iqbal

Daisuke Ito

Adela Jackson

Sadia Jannath

Erica Jarrett

Alex Johnson

Elizabeth Jones

Kari Kangur

Mari Kauaguchi

Robert Kee

Caitlin Kelly

Sarah Kennedy

Michael Krueger

Veronica Kulwicki

Cynthia Lane

Phu Tho Le

Matt Leazer

Nadia caught coming out of the closet

*Lock up your daughters.
These 3 studs are on the prowl.*

Shana Jones

Kathleen Jost

Noelle Jozefowicz

Linda Kadel

Kenneth Kaden

Magda Khoury

Emily Kirby

Leigh Kite

Margaret Knight

Andrew Kobayahi

Elizabeth Lee-Hew

Ailsa Lewis

Jessica Lewis

Kathryn Litz

Charles Loggins

Who could turn down eyes like that?

Kathryn Lohmann

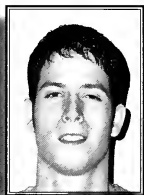

Rhiannon Loomis

Amy Lowe

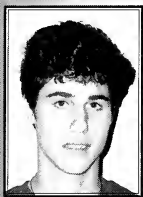

Kyle Luedtke

Jeffrey Lura

Sarah Lykes

Charles Marie

Elliot Martin

Jessica Martinez

Bleshette Mason

Arthur Massey III

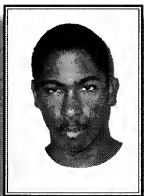

Jessica Matsumoto

Latoya McCants

James McClary

Richard McWhorter

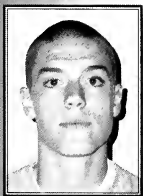

Jordan Mertens

Claire Mieszczer

Samantha Miller

William Mosley

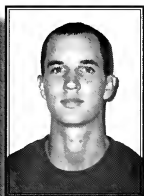

Thu Nguyen

Amanda Nichols

Antoinette Niland

Brian Norman

Daniel Pages

Maggi Pigram

Jennifer Plant

Myriam Poirier

Jessica Pond

Roja Pondicherry-haris

Kelly Poor

Shalimar Lyons

Emily Preston

Rachel Maddux

Ashley Maehr

Stephanie Malm

Michael Malone

Nadia Mawani

Florent Mayaud

Barbara McBride

Kira McCabe

Anna McCaghren

Jeremy McCall

Ben Minor

Tehmina Mirza

Francesco Monteleone

Rachel Morris

Meagan Morrow

Jodi-Ann Moses

Travis Palladino

Ashley Pate

Aimee Paulk

Shavonda Perryman

Keith Peterman

Courtney Phillips

Jennifer Popejoy

Jason Potts

Megan Rader

Rachel Renz

Marcella Restrepo

OU

Brandon Rhodes

Brent Rose

Jamie Rosenberg

Josh Rosendahl

Adrienne Rowe

Joemadae Scott

Emily Shaw

Bradford Sill

Jamie Smelley

Matt Smith

Tom Stover

Michelle Stringer

Ashley Suddith

Jeff Sullivan

Sarah Summerfield

1 Year Down...

Pals Laura and Sara get cozy

The '80s are back and better than ever!

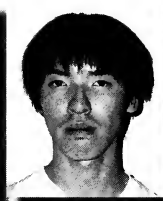

Paul Rowe

Jake Russ

Anthony Sabala

Shin Saito

Meeya Sakura

Stuart Spetseris

Jessica Stahlman

Brent Staley

Kelsey Stapler

Kristine Steimer

Jimmy Sutherland

Judith Taylor

Celine Thimel

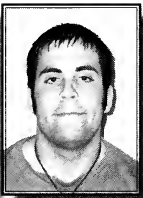

Rene Thimel

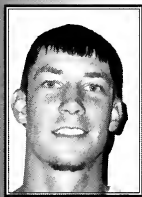

Anthony Thompson

Katherine Thompson Emily Treuman Andrew Tulowitzky Lindsey Walker Emory Walton Jr. Josh Washburn

Anna West-Hammer Charlie Wilder Darren Williams Shanta Williams Brandi Wilson Andrea Wood

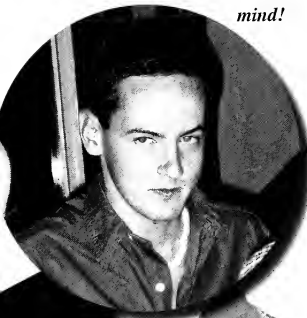

Matt Woodruff Connie Yip Rachael Zellner Sean Ziegler

When Ailsa goes out, she goes OUT!

With a look like that, you KNOW what's on this man's mind!

If only we could all be as cool Brent!

Yvonne and her man show us that they're SOLID!

Veronica looking effortlessly devastating

Around Campus™

Hello, I am Bernard, the Chief Editor of the Yearbook, and I just wanted to share a day in my life, as we say in my 'hood, as a Playa. Anyway, I get around like Tupac. I love it when they call me "Big Papa". Though there are the occasional few that slip through my fingers... but they just wasn't ready.

A true Playa pays for meals, so I took my gul Angie to the ice cream parlor (so you can be a playa on a budget).

I spent some time reminiscing with some around the way girls - Tostada and Bomshequa.

Jamaican bombshell, you know, I was a bomb on me... you can't win 'em all.

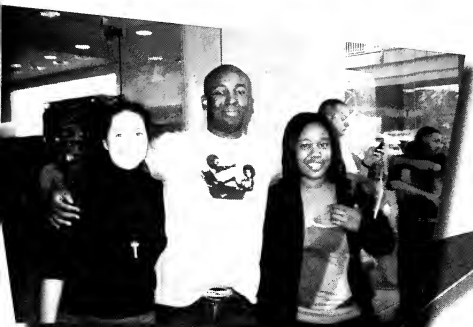

They say you always have one that you come home to... well.

I think you should always have one to take home to mama.

with Bernard

* Bernard Moore had nothing to do with this. Really!

Any true playa knows why God blessed him with two arms... and thus is always ready to use them.

It doesn't hurt to keep your options open.

Well, I had to go to great lengths to get a date with Miss Payne, but calling a mandatory year-book dinner works just as well.

What can I say... he looks good in white and he likes me in goggles.

When upperclassmen fail...

This Book is Dedicated to

Janelle Smith

Her smile, warmth, and charisma have made attending Oglethorpe University such an immense pleasure. Thank you for being you!

Walsworth Publishing Company

306 North Kansas Avenue / Marceline, Missouri 64658 USA

